

Strike May Extend Jeff Elementary Split Sessions

Earlier bright prospects of an end to double sessions in the Jefferson Elementary School district this fall grow dimmer as the carpenters strike enters its fifth day.

Mario Ciampi, architect for Benjamin Franklin school, where construction has been in progress on 21 classrooms, told the board of trustees Wednesday night that unless work resumed in a week, the nine classrooms scheduled for completion by opening of the school term would not be ready.

Opening of the nine classrooms would eliminate double sessions entirely from the district for the opening of the term. Some 300 children are now attending on the split schedule.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel revealed that actually there is virtually no carpenter work remaining to be done but that the carpenters have asked the metal workers not to install stops in the windows, a job that is generally handled by the latter by mutual agreement.

Almost Complete

Other than installation of windows, hanging doors, painting and installing floor tile the classrooms are complete, said Dave Shapiro, assistant superintendent.

But the metal workers have gone along with the carpenter's request and so the classrooms will remain uncompleted during the duration of the strike.

Joseph Lewkowitz charged that the Associated General Contractors were "taking it out on the children" by not allowing their members to negotiate for interim agreements with the labor council.

Trustees approved sending a letter to the A.G.C., the contractor and the labor council asking that the strike order be relaxed on the Benjamin Franklin project.

Other Action

In other action Wednesday, the board:

1. Voted to award contract for supplying furniture to several firms bidding on some $35,000 worth of separate items. A total of 11 bids were submitted.

2. Recommended low bidders on janitorial supplies be awarded contract. Four bids were submitted for this material.

3. Heard report from Ciampi that plans for two-story addition to Benjamin Franklin had been

COUNCIL UPSTAX RATE 5 CENTS FOR 1956-57

A tentative budget calling for tax rate increase of five cents per $100 was adopted unanimously by the city council Monday night.

The budget now stands at approximately $1,200,000, some $29,000 less than when it was presented to the council a month ago.

ZOUNDS! PUBLIC BODY WILL HAVE A TAX DECREASE

Broadmoor Police district commissioners adopted a budget Wednesday night that will probably give their district the distinction of being the only governmental body in San Mateo county which can boast a tax decrease for the 1956-57 fiscal year.

Commissioners approved a final budget of $35,960, $5000 under last year's figure.

The county must still compute the tax rate, but Chairman Harry Brown estimates that it will be four or five cents under last year's rate of 45½ cents per $100. The budget decrease, plus a raise in assessed valuation, will make this possible.

Decrease in budget was realized because of the reduction of the capital outlay fund some $4000. This year the district had to expend some $6000 for remodeling the police station.

Budget breakdown is as follows: salaries, $24,175; radio service, $1200; general maintenance, $3210; car expense, $2700; insurance, $2377; office expense, $200; capital outlay—furniture, $100; remodeling and repairs, $500; new car, $1200 plus trade-in; new police equipment, $300.

A tax rate of $1.48 per $100, five cents higher than last year's figure, will be required to raise this amount.

To the owner of a home assessed at $3000, this will mean an additional $1.50 per year in municipal taxes.

According to figures released Monday, the city's assessed valuation totals $26,866,834 after veteran's exemptions. This exceeds last year's total of $25,734,715 by more than $1,000,000, and is a major factor in offsetting an even higher tax increase. These figures do not include unsecured personal property.

A total of $397,679 will be raised from local property taxes, based on the $1.48 rate. Remainder of the city's revenue comes from state subventions, licenses, water service, fines and forfeitures and special fees.

Breakdown of where the property tax money is spent is as follows: general government, 75 cents, raising $201,501; library, 19-5 cents, raising $52,391; parks, 28 cents, raising $75,227; retirement, 15.5 cents, raising $41,693; and bond interest and redemption, 10 cents, raising $26,867.

Monday's tentative budget may still undergo several changes before the budget hearing next month.

Councilmen indicated, however, that the total budget couldn't stand the amount of cuts needed to hold the tax rate at $1.43.

Council Ups Expenses

The city council and department heads will receive $40 a day expenses when representing the city out of the county, the city council decided by resolution Monday night.

Condition Of Playgrounds Scored By PTA Woman

The city was called to task Monday night by a representative of Crocker-Pershing PTA for failure to make promised improvements on several local parks and playgrounds allocated for these projects on completion of Westlake park.

Mrs. Jack D. White, 689 Templeton avenue, said that in March the recreation director at that time, James Mason, said that funds had been allocated in the 1955-56 fiscal year budget for improvements at Peoria and Bellevue Scout-houses, Frankfort park and Lincoln playgrounds.

"It's now July and what expenditures have been made on these projects?" she asked. She related that "Several sources told me this money was spent in preparing Westlake park parking lot so it would be ready before the election."

Money Available

City Manager Howard Stites informed Mrs. White that "There is sufficient money set aside to finish these projects. It's just been a case of not enough time. The money is definitely earmarked."

He revealed that money had also been budgeted for this year fiscal to finance work on the recreation centers named by Mr. White.

He said $800 had been set aside for Peoria, $2000 for Bellevue and $500 for Lincoln.

"But what happened to the addition on Frankfort?" continued Mrs. White in her inquiry.

She declared that "the park is deserted, there's no supervision and no recreation activities."

"Our PTA is interested in this," she continued. "The money literally goes down the drain at Frankfort due to improper drainage. It's been sitting since May and the lawn has died. It's a disgrace. Are we going to be blessed with an un-supported mudhole again this year?"

Next On List

Engineer Cyrry Weiler explained that Frankfort was next on the public works priority schedule, right after completion of the First and Valley street drains sometime this week.

"But I'm getting tired of waiting our turn," retorted Mrs. White. "I even heard Frankfort park was being closed completely."

"I never heard of this," answered Stites.

Mayor Joseph Verducci then promised Mrs. White that her PTA would receive a letter from

Jeff High Junior Wins 'Miss Daly City' Title

A 16-year-old Jefferson Union High school junior will reign as "Miss Daly City" for the coming year. She is Rosalind Reinstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Reinstra of 566 Hillside boulevard.

Rosalind was judged "fairest of the fair" at the beauty contest held Monday night and sponsored by the Daly City Chamber of Commerce.

About 75 persons attended the event at the Westlake auditorium where they watched Rosalind being crowned by Chamber President Jack Kendree and Janet Watson, last year's queen.

"Miss Daly City" plans on combining her singing and dancing talents in musical comedy roles after her graduation from Jeff. Judges on Monday night, however, seemed more impressed by Rosalind's talents which measure 36-24½-36. Other statistics taken into account were her five feet, five inches height, 124 pound weight, fair complexion and brown eyes and hair.

Judges Kendree, Mrs. Pat Thurston, Louis Pisani, Judge Thomas L. Bocci and Paul Ward made their choice from among five applicants.

Workers Back To Colma Cemeteries But Embalmer Strike Impedes Burials

The 65-day old cemetery workers strike ended this week, as grave diggers and grounds keepers returned to parched and weed infested cemeteries in Colma yesterday. But burials were still being delayed because of the strike.

Lockout of 60 embalmers at 21 of San Francisco's 35 mortuaries.

The 180-man cemetery workers union voted Wednesday to accept a three-year contract which provides for an hourly wage increase of 15 cents the first year, nine cents the second, and six cents the third. In the second year, vacations are increased and sick leave established, and in the third a 10-cent pension fund payment and health insurance for employees' families will go into effect.

Several of the struck mortuaries had scheduled burials for yesterday but former San Francisco mayor Elmer Robinson, one of the principal spokesmen for the cemetery operators and an owner of Woodlawn cemetery said his cemetery would not arrange burials with mortuaries under strike.

The striking embalmers are demanding that all mortuary employees except management must be members of the union.

CALL SEARCH HERE FOR THREE BANDITS

Police yesterday were still searching the Daly City and San Francisco areas for John (Midge) Ruano and his two companions who escaped June 28 from a San Quentin honor camp. The trio are believed to have committed a series of brutal crimes in the Bay Area since their escape.

Ruano, 41, a five-foot tall ex-jockey, was sentenced to San Quentin in 1950 for driving the getaway car for two men who shot and killed Bookie Marty Breslau on a Daly City street.

The 100-pound jockey pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to five years to life at San Quentin.

His two companions are believed to be Michael Deveney, 38, a Los Angeles forger, and Jack R. Oliver, 26, a Mariposa county robber.

COUNCIL STILL UNDECIDED ON CITY SALES TAX

Decision on the controversial one-cent municipal sales tax was held over by the city council Monday night for "more study" and further expression from the county and individual citizens.

In a prepared statement the council, which was scheduled to hold a showdown on the special levy Monday, said: "The council has determined it has not had sufficient time to devote to study of the sales tax. The city manager has made his report and we have discussed it, but feel some reaction from the county, as well as citizens, should be expressed. We will give a complete study to the tax and will consider the correspondence received here and the views of proponents and opponents."

Letters Oppose

Four letters expressing opposition to the one-cent sales tax were received at Monday's meeting.

They included one from the city of South San Francisco, two from

Myrtle Subdivider Still Wants City To Pay Water Costs

Is a subdivider whose land is within the original limits of the Daly City water system liable to pay for installation of water mains?

This is the question which City Attorney Frank Blum will have to elaborate on at the next regular meeting of the council.

William Pinney, attorney for A. L. Kreuzberger, developer of the Myrtle tract in Southern Daly City, reiterated his earlier contention that the city must supply water "on demand" to the local subdivision. Installation of water mains would cost approximately $6500.

He claimed that precedent had been set in favor of the subdivider in two previous court cases in which the city demands upon the builder to install water mains.

Pinney pointed out that the city "could have" made installation of water mains a requirement of subdivision at the time the tract was submitted, but that they "mailed to exercise their right." He maintained that the council's policy at that time did not require subdividers to install their own system. "So you can't arbitrarily tell my client now that he has to do it," Pinney proclaimed.

City Manager Howard Stites said that it was a matter for the council to determine, but pointed out that in 1950 the city had required Doelger to furnish mains at his Westlake subdivision.

"Yes, but he wasn't in the original water district," answered

The trio were last seen early Thursday morning by two Millbrae off-duty police officers who followed the bandits' car to San Francisco where they were lost in traffic. An all-points bulletin was issued for neighboring cities, including Daly City, to be on the lookout for the escapees.

On Tuesday night two members of the trio were spotted by San Francisco police officers after the thugs held up and wounded two men at an outer Mission district grocery store. A 100-mile-an-hour chase, with more than 200 police officers finally involved, followed through Daly City and down Skyline boulevard to Millbrae.

On their route through the Westlake subdivision, one of the 25 bullets fired whizzed through the window of a home at 1306 South Mayfair avenue owned by Allen Bensco.

Reaching Millbrae, the toughs abandoned their stolen car and fled the scene. Police were afraid Wednesday that the bandits had holed up in some private home and were keeping the residents captive.

Other crimes which the escapes are believed to have committed include holdup of a Menlo Park liquor store on Monday night and holdup of a Los Banos gas station on Friday night.

Last Thursday night the trio broke into the Mariposa county sheriff's office and stole weapons. All of their holdup victims have been brutally pistol-whipped.

DC Special Cop Pleads Guilty To Petty Theft Count

Oliver Sass, Daly City special police officer, pleaded guilty in municipal court Tuesday to a charge of stealing several quarts of oil from a local gas station on July 1.

Sass, 52, 8 Felton street, South San Francisco, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail or payment of a fine of $500. Judge Thomas L. Bocci placed him on six months' probation, of which one of the conditions is that his private inspector's license be revoked.

Still to appear for plea is Sass' alleged cohort in the crime, Police Officer Richard Brohman, 37, 96 Bel Mar avenue. Court date for Brohman, who has been suspended from the police department, is scheduled for Tuesday.

City Manager Howard Stites explained to the council that the city was not in a financial position to purchase the fill.

Apartment Project Bogs Down As Annex Rejected

Callan Realty Co.'s plans for a multi-million dollar apartment development in the 75 Dollar Homestead off Junipero Serra went awry Tuesday night as the planning commission turned down annexation of five-sixths of the property on the grounds that it would create irregular boundaries.

Of the 64 lots, located between 88th and 91st streets and Edgeworth and Sullivan, the commission recommended annexation of only ten of them, located on the southeast corner of Edgeworth and Sullivan. This parcel was approved because it would straighten out an irregular boundary presently existing.

Callan company's only recourse now is to secure approval of adjoining property owners for annexation or purchase all the land in order to straighten-out the boundaries.

In other action Tuesday, the planners:

1. Recommended granting of 20 foot commercial buffer strip fronting on Miriam street which will be used by Aurora L. Throssi for Jefferson Union High school district trustees Monday night approved a tentative budget of $1,781,038, an increase of $485,162 over the 1955-56 figure. General tax rate is expected to jump to $1.56 per $100 assessed valuation, rise of 38.2 cents over this year's rate of $1.178.

The $1.56 rate is comprised of $1.35 general purpose tax, 16-cent classified and certificated employees' retirement and five-cent community services tax. Not included is payment on bond interest and redemption, which presently totals 14.7 cents.

According to Thomas Fletcher of the county superintendent of schools' office, the bond interest and redemption rate should remain about the same.

$12 Yearly Tax

Total rate, therefore, to be paid by Jefferson district homeowners will be approximately $1.707 per $100 assessed valuation. For the average homeowner with an assessed valuation of $3000, this means payment of $32 a year in school district taxes.

A figure of $962,849 is budgeted for total current expenses of education. This is $227,959 above last year's budget of $734,890.

Instruction will be by far the district's largest cost under the general purposes portion of the budget, with $647,643 allocated towards this purpose. Operation of school plant is listed as second highest at $92,350, while school plant maintenance is third at $63,964.

Other items are administration, $54,060; transportation, $44,420; fixed charges, $35,732; and auxiliary services, $24,680.

$28,800 Rec Tax

Capital outlay allocation is $575,972, of which $28,800 is expected to be derived from the five-cent community services (recreation) tax.

At the suggestion of Freshman Trustee Donald Miller, Superintendent Edward Morgan will investigate possibility of lowering the $129,417 general reserve fund to the lowest figure allowed by the county. The difference would then be transferred to the undistributed reserve fund under which $100,000 now is seen.

The board has until August 6, when public hearing will be held, to alter the budget.

CITY CAN'T BUY SMITH ROCK FILL

An offer from H. H. Smith Jr. to sell the city rock fill to correct the erosion problem on East Vista was turned down by the council Monday.

Smith offered for sale the fill available on his property at Hillside and Mission street.

City Manager Howard Stites explained to the council that the city was not in a financial position to purchase the fill.

CITY TO RENEW VOLUNTEER FIREMEN INSURANCE POLICY

The city council Monday night tentatively approved renewing insurance policy for members of the Volunteer fire department, after hearing several queries from the audience on the matter.

City Manager Howard Stites said the policy would continue as it has in the past, with the exception that regular city employees who are Volunteer firemen won't be included, since they are already covered by the city's insurance.

The Volunteer's policy calls for $25 a week payment for 52 weeks on disability and $2000 life insurance.

So the winsome lassies followed suit, but all were so nervous about the contest that they consumed only about one-tenth of the beef—some 40 clams worth.

All was not lost, however, as the management provided them with "bowser bags" and they took the delectable chow home with them for an after-contest steak sandwich, when nerves weren't quite so taut.

local auto dealers, Frank Martorana and William J. Sweeney Jr., and one from the Building and Construction Trades Council.

Sweeney said he was "opposed to any form of sales tax," while Martorana deemed it a "harmful" levy. The Building Trades Council said it was in "unanimous opposition" to the tax.

Sweeney appeared in person and told councilmen that the tax would work a hardship on the local auto sales industry, one of the community's largest enterprises. He said the local dealers presently have an advantage in that they can advertise no sales tax, as opposed to San Francisco where a half-cent levy exists.

Hurt Economy

He pointed to the fact that local auto dealers had large payrolls and hired mostly local people, and that the special tax would be harmful to the local economy.

"We're already keeping books for the federal and state government and labor. Don't make us keep books for the city and county too," Sweeney pleaded.

James McKay, Democratic candidate for the ninth Congressional seat, told the council that he represented COST (Committee Opposed to Sales Tax) and advised the council not to pass the sales tax unless they wanted another special election. "We're out to stop it," he declared.

It has been rumored that the council favors the special tax by a margin of three to two but no formal stand has been voiced.

Councilman Michael De Bernardi and Mayor Joseph Verducci have both expressed interest in the tax as a means of gaining revenue for capital improvements.

The one-cent levy would bring the city $225,000 in revenue in its initial year.

It is reported that the council majority would back the tax, but not for the full one cent. The one-half cent tax, such as exists in San Francisco, has been suggested.

FIRE VICTIMS' LOT DOESN'T CONFORM TO CODE-PLANNERS

The lot at 108 Knowles avenue on which a home is being constructed for the burned-out James Walton family does not conform to city planning standards, planning commissioner Thomas Tromborg told the council in a letter Monday night.

Tromborg said the commission had no objection to approving the building, except for the fact that the lot's dimensions are only 25 feet by 30 feet. The city requires a minimum of 25 feet by 100 feet, or a total of 2500 square feet.

The commission recommended that Walton make an attempt to buy the northern half of the land, sold at a tax sale, to extend depth of the property.

Councilman Paul Hupf pointed out that "There's nothing we can do about it now. If we took any action it would be premature. The planners are only recommending that the Waltons attempt to buy the land."

The council agreed that the planning commission should submit a new recommendation which was more specific.

30,000 PEOPLE AND GARBAGE

It's a lot of garbage!
We mean that the refuse deposited in cans each week by 30,000 Daly City residents amounts to a lot of garbage.

If it were left in your house or in front of your home one day after the regular pick-up time, you would consider it a horrendous nuisance and, worse than that, a serious health hazard.

But multiply your family's garbage by some 10,000 and imagine the unpleasant mess.

That's what confronts Daly City Scavenger Co. and likewise the City of Daly City.

Garbage is currently being burned at the Skyline dump, but the scavengers are expected to be evicted from these premises at any moment. At any rate, the most time they have to clear out is 90 days, under edict issued by county supervisors.

State law now requires that all garbage be disposed of by the fill and cover method.

Up to now, that's fine. The problem is, Daly City and its scavenger company have no land where a fill and cover method can be put into operation.

The coastal property planned as a fill and cover site appeared the answer. But the price was too high.

Next the scavengers proposed the Smith land south of the Chinese cemeteries off Junipero Serra boulevard. This seemed an ideal location, but the scare word "dump" prompted residents of the nearby Winston Manor subdivision to rise up in wrath and bombard the county supervisors with protests.

So this week the county board denied the scavengers use permit for their latest proposed site.

The local scavengers have made more than conscientious efforts to secure a dump site. And the city has worked in conjunction with them. Efforts of both forces have been to no avail.

Now it appears that the county supervisors are going to make it even more difficult for Daly City to find a way to rid itself of its garbage.

First they tell the scavengers, "get a dump site, or else." Then next week the scavengers come up with what they think is a good location for a dump site, and the supervisors nix it.

Wherever a dump site is proposed, there'll be protests.

But if Daly City doesn't secure a dump site soon, the protests heard up to now will sound like whispers.

The garbage has got to be dumped somewhere and covered with earth fill.

It's a cinch Daly City residents aren't going to abide having the garbage sitting in their front yards.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

You have only a few more days to see one of the most exciting plays in many a long day—Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee's "Inherit the Wind," closing this Friday at the Geary. Based on the sensational Scopes "monkey trial," it is a play that has something to say and, thanks to towering performances by Melvyn Douglas and James Westerfield, says it superbly.

In 1925 in Dayton, Tennessee, Scopes, an obscure biology teacher had the courage to make a test case of a law which forbade the teaching of evolution in the public schools. His trial created nationwide attention, not only because of the nature of the "crime" he was accused of committing, but because Clarence Darrow defended him. William Jennings Bryan handled the prosecution and a newspaperman named H. L. Menck covered it.

As the play is not strictly documentary and certain liberties have been taken with history to make the play more effective, the principals involved have been given different names, but to avoid confusion we intend to refer to them by their original names.

Unrelenting Fanaticism
As Scopes, Perry Fiske does a competent job in portraying a young man bewildered by the townspeople's unreasoning hatred of him. In the role of his fiancée, Susan Brown projects the uncertainty and bewilderment of one caught between her father's bible-pounding and her young man's obvious sincerity and belief in something she herself doesn't fully understand. Her father is played by John Randolph and he brings to the role an impression of unrelenting religious fanaticism which borders on hysteria.

Daly City Soldiers Serve In Germany

9TH DIV. GERMANY — Specialists Third Class Mario Leveroni and Louis Cortopassi Jr., of Daly City, Calif., recently were assigned to the 9th Infantry Division in Germany.

Leveroni, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Leveroni, 42 E. Cavour, attended San Mateo Junior college and was employed by Lucca Market in civilian life.

Cortopassi whose parents live at 326 Evergreen avenue is a former employee of A. L. Stockton Lumber Company.

The two 21-year-old soldiers, assistant squad leaders in Company B of the division's 47th Regiment, entered the Army in September, 1954. They received basic training at Fort Ord and arrived overseas in February, 1955.

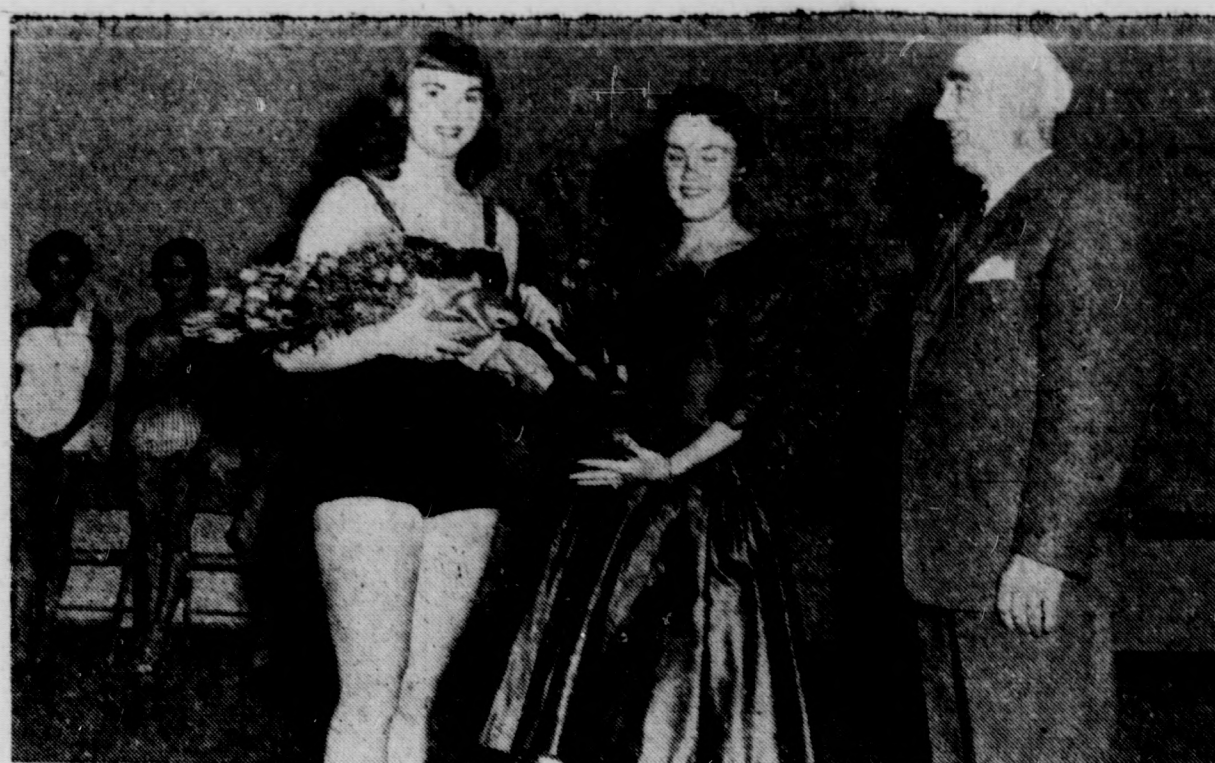

William Woodson is the newspaperman and has some lines which might well have come from Menck's caustic tongue. Unfortunately, Woodson is a bit too much the cub reporter to be effective as the journalist who in 1925 had long since passed the cub stage.

Shambling Giant

And so we come to the giants: Darrow and Bryan, played by Melvyn Douglas and James Westerfield respectively. Douglas is a shambling giant, dressed in baggy pants with unkempt thin grey hair and a voice which can wheedle, roar or even crack if he wishes, as he fights for the right of man to think.

Westerfield is a pompous Bryan, equipped with a booming voice. His endless platitudes hint at a shallowness of soul, until, broken by Darrow, his sincerity no longer questioned, he is seen as a sad, lonely tragic figure who has outlived his era. A masterly performance.

"Inherit the Wind" has everything: plot, lines, actors, sets. In a word, it is great.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff of the Daly City Public Library

Are you interested in art, or would you like to develop your artistic ability? If so, the Daly City Library is the place for you to go. Just received at the Library are a number of books on art and artists, some of which are sure to please you.

Many art-lovers are aware of the fine books published by Skira in Switzerland. For several years these fabulous books, with really remarkable color reproductions, have delighted English-reading art-lovers. But their almost prohibitive price placed them out of the reach of the average reader and the average library. Now, however, Skira has begun the publication of a new series called THE TASTE OF OUR TIME, a moderate-priced series containing reduced copies of the same marvelous color illustrations.

The Daly City Public Library has recently acquired the following in this series: CEZANNE, MANET, RENAISSANCE, DEGAS, GOYA, LAURET, GAUGUIN, PICASSO, DUFY, and VAN GOGH. All are biographical and critical studies of the individual artists by noted European critics. Watch for other publications in this series to be acquired by the Library as they appear.

There are two new biographies of artists, also recently acquired by the Library. One is Antonina Vallentin's EL GREGO, one of the outstanding recent biographies. The other new acquisition is EPSTEIN, AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY, by the noted sculptor, Jacob Epstein.

For those who would like to try their own hands, the Library offers Arthur Zaidenberg's THE JOY OF PAINTING. This attractively-illustrated volume covers all the ABC's of painting, from the materials needed on through the methods of drawing, face and figure work, landscapes, seascapes, and what-have-you, with examples of the product in various stages of completion.

Those who wish to make a business of art will be interested in the new revised and up-to-date edition of Biegeleisen's CAREERS IN COMMERCIAL ART, which covers the entire field and gives accurate information about the requirements and opportunities in this vast field.

Those who enjoy cartoons will

Visitors Invited To 'Dress Up' For SM County Fiesta

To salute the centennial of San Mateo county, costumes will be the order of the day at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta for eight days of its nine-day run, August 3 through 11.

Visitors are not required to appear in costumes of the past but, according to the Fiesta events department, they are invited to come dressed in any period of early day San Mateo county that takes their fancy.

Beginning Saturday, August 4, and continuing through Friday, August 10, a daily prize of a $25 United States Savings Bond will be awarded the costume judged best-for-the-day. On the closing Saturday, August 11, the winning contestants from the other seven days will compete for the Fiesta Centennial Costume prize of a $100 United States Savings Bond and for second prize of a $50 bond.

Daily judging will occur at 7:30 p.m. in a special area of the fairgrounds. The grand parade for final judging will take place at 1 p.m. on the closing Saturday.

Authenticity of costumes as well as attractiveness will be considered in naming the awards. From the days when the first Spanish explorers set foot in what is now San Mateo county to the "Brother - can - you - spare - a - dime" thirties there are many colorful eras from which to choose. Suggestions include the times of the Spanish-Mexican rancheros, the early American settlers, Gold Rush days, Bonanza Kings, gay nineties and roaring twenties, to mention just a few.

The atmosphere of other times will be carried out in many exhibits where attendants are planning to come in costume. "We hope everyone will join in our historical festival of fun," said Anthony J. Gaggero, president of the county fair association.

Preliminary assessed valuation figures released this week point towards a 14 per cent hike in the Jefferson Union High school district area. The 1956-57 grand total is estimated at $60,081,983, a rise of $2,739,269 over last year's total of $57,342,714.

According to Superintendent Edward Morgan, the figure is a "little higher than was expected." Morgan added that he has not yet determined whether the increase would make any difference in the expected general tax rate of $1.56 per $100 assessed valuation.

Included in the 1956-57 figure is $63,990,708, total secured taxes, as compared with $55,202,409 last year, and $2,091,275 unsecured taxes as compared with $2,140,305 last year.

Property in the Jefferson elementary school district is tentatively marked at $39,948,078 assessed valuation, an increase of $3,770,483 over last year's figure of $36,177,595.

In keeping with State Fair tradition, two harness races will open the horse racing program each day, followed by two quarter horse races. Then will come the eight daily thoroughbred races. Racing will be held every day of the Fair excepting the two Sundays that fall within the 12-day Fair schedule.

Century masters. The reproductions are full-page size and in full-color, and each illustration is accompanied by a brief commentary on the work, telling of its technical value as well as its history.

For these and other books on art and artists, consult your Public Library, at 6351 Mission Street, or at 34 Park Plaza Drive. Remember, your Library has something for everyone, and it should be your headquarters for books and information about all the arts.

LIVE TELECAST FROM OPERA HOUSE... With heavy black cables strung across the stage... bright lights shining overhead... cameras... monitors... white-outfitted engineers... the stage of the San Francisco Memorial Opera House presented a unique scene as a live telecast of the popular CBS program "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" (KPIX, Mondays, 8:30 p.m.) originated in San Francisco last week. Although the telecast was scheduled at an early evening hour, practically every seat in the magnificent building, which seats approximately 3200 people, was filled. Certainly again we have proof of the tremendous power of television. People were lined up in front of the building well before the doors opened and the supply of tickets for the telecast had been exhausted in a couple of days.

As Arthur Godfrey walked onto the stage the audience broke into prolonged applause. The program featured three entertainers who were competing for recognition. Godfrey has an informal friendly manner that appeals to audiences and also he has an extraordinary knack of presenting a commercial so people will listen attentively.

We would like to see more live network shows originate in San Francisco. There are many loyal television and radio fans in the bay area who enjoy seeing a live network telecast. We hope the broadcast of "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" is a forerunner of more network programs to be telecast from the city by the Golden Gate.

KIDDIES' CORNER... One of the most popular of children's radio programs is "No School Today" heard every Saturday over KGO from 8 to 9:30 a.m. Jon Arthur, creator of the show portrays the feature roles of "Big Jon" and "Sparkie." In addition the program features some fine children's records. Big Jon always has some good advice for youngsters such as the program last week on which he offered timely suggestions as to how to celebrate the 4th of July sensibly. "No School Today" has been on the air for many years and has received numerous awards as one of the outstanding children's broadcasts.

NEW MUSICAL TELEVISION SHOW

There are far too few live musical programs over local television so it was good news to learn that KRON-TV is featuring a new musical series on Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. With the title "Jazz Session" the program is produced by Benjamin Draper and stars Bonnie Kever as musical hostess. Top names in the jazz musical world will guest on the show each week. In addition the program will include the story of the development of jazz. We watched the program featuring Earl "Fatha" Hines and his All Stars. The show moves along smoothly and has just the right amount of informality. Some of the camera shots were outstanding, particularly the silhouettes of the orchestra... so if you like jazz tune to Channel 4... We think you'll like "Jazz Session."

Rear Admiral Henry S. Russell, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Wilbur Russell, 130 Maywood drive, will leave with other Explorers by Navy plane from Alameda Naval Air Station July 11 for Seattle where they will join the balance of the contingent and board the transport, General Mann, on July 13 bound for Japan. The tour is part of an International Scout Exchange program sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America in co-operation with the U.S. Navy.

EXPLORER SCOUTS TO TOUR FOREIGN COUNTRIES UNDER 'SEA LIFT' PLAN

Donald Russell, 16, Explorer Scout in Post 88, sponsored by the Forest Hill Association in the Lake Merced District, will be among a group of about 50 Explorer Scouts (aged 14-17) from various parts of the United States who will participate in an Explorer Scout Sea Lift to the Pacific, July 11 to August 31.

The tour is part of an International Scout Exchange program sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America in co-operation with the U. S. Navy, in which American Scouts and leaders travel to foreign countries while foreign Scouts and leaders visit this country.

Purpose of the program is to further international understanding among Scouts of different nations and to promote world brotherhood.

The Bay Area Scouts with other Explorers from California, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and Hawaii, will leave by Navy plane from Alameda Naval Air Station July 11 for Seattle where they will join the balance of the contingent and board the transport, General Mann, on July 13 bound for Japan.

Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Russell, 130 Maywood drive, was selected for the trip in a competition involving Scouts from five Western states and Hawaii based on his record of achievement in Scouting, in school, in the church, and the community.

He is a junior at Lincoln High school and a member of the Scholarship society. He has held all types of leadership positions in Scouting including that of junior assistant Scoutmaster for his Troop. During the United Nations commemorative session held in San Francisco in 1955, he was senior patrol leader of the special service Troop of San Francisco Scouts who served as messengers and aides during the UN meet.

Highlight of the trip will be a visit to the Fourth National Jamboree of Japan to be held August 3-7, at Karuizawa, a famous summer resort in the central part of Japan not far from Tokyo.

The contingent is expected to return to the U. S. by August 28. While aboard the transport, the Scouts will participate in an active program of training and recreational activities. The Scouts will pay for their meals aboard the transport and for incidental expenses while in Japan.

Counterpart of the American contingent, a group of 50 Japanese, Korean, and Philippine Scouts are expected to arrive in San Francisco, July 23, aboard the transport, USS Breckinridge.

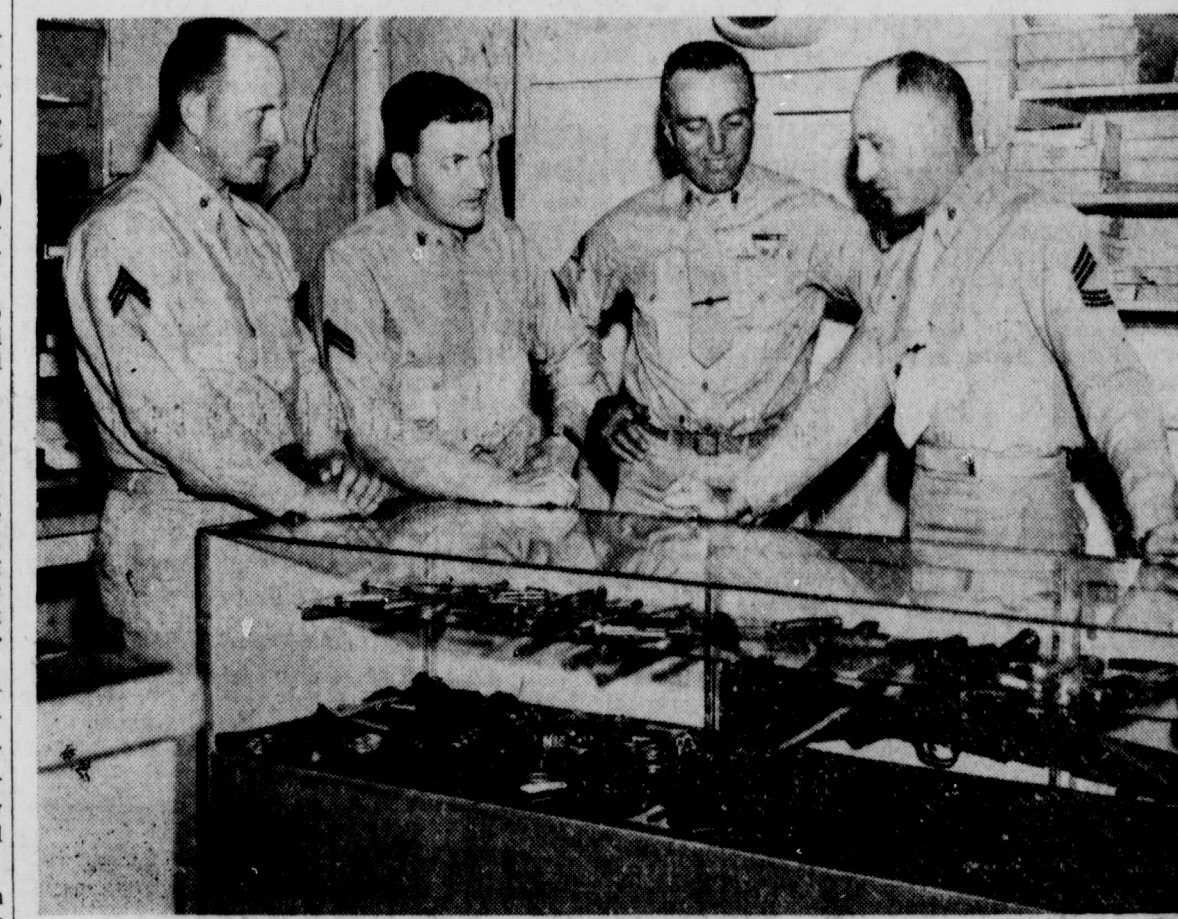

The exchanges, which began this spring and will continue throughout the summer both to Europe—with the co-operation of the U. S. Air Force—and to the Far East, will involve a total of about 300 Scouts and leaders from 13 different foreign countries and the United States.

NURSERY WORKER FOUND GUILTY OF CHILD MOLESTING

A 40-year-old local nursery worker was found guilty in municipal court yesterday on a charge of child molesting.

Cecil Eugene La Barr, 366 Rhine street, was referred to the probation officer for psychiatric tests after which a report to the court will be made. Judge Thomas L. Bocci set sentencing for August 2.

La Barr, who represented himself in court, was charged with attempting to molest a 13-year-old girl on May 29. Lewd notes written by the nursery worker to the child were introduced as evidence in the trial.

Reverend McConnell Feted At 'This Is Your Life' Program

A dinner program was recently presented at the Vista Grande Avenue Christian church for retiring minister Reverend Howard Patrick McConnell. In charge of the event was the Jack n' Jill class (young married couples) of the church. Master of ceremonies for the program, based on the TV show "This Is Your Life," was Class President James Hatchel.

Following the dinner, held for some 120 church members and visitors, the group was seated in the church sanctuary and an old-time religious songfest was held to set the mood of the program. Hatchel then singled out Rev. McConnell and opened the show by presenting him with a large leather bound scrap book entitled, "This Is Your Life," and Rev. and Mrs. McConnell were brought to the front of the sanctuary and seated.

The Master of Ceremonies then began recalling Rev. McConnell's lively and interesting past. Where friends and relatives were unable to attend, pictures and letters from out of his past were collected in the scrap book, beginning with an early picture of Rev. McConnell's parents, and including pictures from his earliest childhood in Kansas and letters from those close to him throughout his life. Slides had been made of the various pictures and were shown on a screen for the audience.

Two Daughters

Sliding doors to an adjoining auditorium were opened to reveal many friends and members of Rev. McConnell's previous ministries at Santa Monica, San Jose and San Mateo. Among those present were his two daughters, Mrs. Walter Tilcock and husband and children of Concord, and Mrs. Whitman Smith and her husband and children of Woodside.

A letter from Mrs. John Morton written from her hospital bed, where she is convalescing from surgery, followed.

The letter was read by Mrs. Morton's husband. In recalling the new Morton home made possible in great part by Rev. McConnell, Morton was so overcome with emotion that he was unable to continue the letter and it was concluded by the Master of Ceremonies.

Concluding the program and in line with the theme of "This Is Your Life," Rev. McConnell was presented with a miniature model of a car and other gifts. Final tribute was paid him by Harold Emmert, chairman of the Board of Elders, who presented Rev. McConnell with a certificate of appreciation for his many years of devoted service to the church and appointed him Minister Emeritus.

Rev. McConnell has been with the local church for three and a half years, ending an active ministry that has extended over 52 years and including service as a chaplain in the U. S. Army during the first World War.

The McConnell family moved from Kansas to the State of Washington while Rev. McConnell was a young boy, and it was here at the age of 17 that he preached his first sermon. He attended the University of Oregon and graduated from the Eugene Bible college in Eugene, Oregon in 1911. In 1908 Rev. and Mrs. McConnell were married and their first pastorate was in The Dalles, Oregon. In 1920, during his ministry in San Jose, Rev. McConnell made a trip to Palestine and the Holy Land.

Before coming to the Vista Grande Avenue Christian church, he was State Evangelist for all Northern California churches and was President of the Centennial Convention of the Disciples of Christ for Northern California and Western Nevada last year at Stockton.

Rev. McConnell, a robust and hardy man of 70, will retire with Mrs. McConnell to their home in Woodside, California, where his seemingly inexhaustible energies will go, in part, to pursue his hobby as an active "Rock Hound" and to a continuing service in the church.

Serra Battle Up To 'South' Council

The battle to extend Junipero Serra boulevard through to San Jose and route it so that it bypasses El Camino Real is up to the cities in southern San Mateo county, the city council declared Monday night.

Teen Dance Is Scheduled For Tuesday Nite

An experiment that will be observed with considerable interest is the Sweetheart Dance to be held in the War Memorial building Tuesday exclusively for teenage couples between the ages of 13 and 19.

This dance is being offered free of charge by the Men's club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church as their contribution to the summer's youth activity program.

James Goulden, Men's Club president, stressed that the dance is a community affair to which all teenage couples of Daly City are invited. He points out that the one restriction is that couples only will be admitted. This restriction will not apply to those parents who may desire to accompany their youngsters.

Al Estrada, chairman of the dance committee, has arranged for dance prizes.

The dance will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will end promptly at 11 p.m.

Several Localities Named To County GOP Positions

At its organizational meeting held Tuesday night in Redwood City, the San Mateo County Republican Central committee re-elected John Walton Dinkelspiel of Atherton as chairman. Dinkelspiel is a San Francisco attorney in practice with his brother, Martin, of Burlingame.

Also re-elected were Mrs. Merritt R. Hosmer, San Carlos, first vice chairman; George Coleman, Burlingame, treasurer; Ray T. Marsh, San Carlos, secretary.

New office holders are Amos Bechtold, Colma, second vice chairman, and Dr. Joseph Loredz, Burlingame, third vice chairman.

Mrs. Jeanne Singhoff, Atherton and Norman Adler, Colma, were named to the committee to secure news for the San Mateo Republican, news sheet of the party, which the group agreed to continue publishing.

Dinkelspiel reported that he was vastly disappointed to learn that only 40 tickets to the convention had been allocated to the 48 counties of northern California and that 60 had been granted the 11 counties of Southern California.

Mrs. Mary Cereghino, executive secretary for the county committee, was instructed to mail copies of the by-laws to the 22 members of the central committee, for revision at the August 1 meeting, which will be held at Republican headquarters, 859 North San Mateo drive, San Mateo.

At caucus meetings of the five supervisory districts held before the meeting adjourned the following district chairmen were elected: Bernard Etcheverry, Colma, first supervisory district; Howard P. Wenrich, San Mateo, second; John Lehman, Menlo Park, third; Tesio Tesi, Half Moon Bay, fourth; and Mrs. Douglas W. Morgan, Millbrae, fifth.

Frank Tracey, 715 Larchmont, Colma, is also an elected member for the first supervisory district.

CRUSADE TO DECIDE NEEDS THIS FRIDAY

How much money the United Bay Area Crusade will ask the public for this fall is being decided this month, starting Friday (July 13) when UBAC's five districts tell their dollar needs, and culminating July 26 in the Board of Governors goal decision.

The goal for the five-county campaign—which last year raised $9,681,712 of a $10,691,640 goal—will be a pooling of the budget requests for 1957 of UBAC's member crusades in San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda, Marin and Contra Costa counties.

Donald K. Grant, of San Mateo, and secretary of Guy F. Atkinson Construction Company, is chairman of the 21-member Allocations Committee, which has delegates from all five counties, together with representatives of the Bay Area as a whole.

Ciampi Says Jeff Annex 'Economical'

Architect Mario Ciampi Monday night countered charges of "poor design" at the Jefferson Union High school annex with the argument that the addition was built "very economically" and "debatable items were not included."

The annex, completed in 1954 at a cost of $347,313, averaged a $14.25 square footage expense, the architect claimed. He added that the same building today would cost $21.85 per square foot.

Following Ciampi's explanation of several alleged poorly designed features, the architect was cut short by Trustee Donald Miller.

"I don't see why we should spend time listening to these explanations," Miller said. "It was the sole intent of the board to have these corrections made at Westmoor High school."

The remainder of the board members concurred.

Faculty List

Claim that the Jefferson annex was badly designed in several instances was first made by Principal John Mongan, who was asked by the board to prepare a list of the alleged faults. The list, compiled by the faculty, was presented at the last board meeting.

Before being silenced by trustees, Ciampi offered explanations on several points.

He dealt first with the Little Theater, design of which had been sharply criticized by Drama Instructor Eunice Seaton.

According to Ciampi, the Little Theater was planned with the "very elaborate" auditorium at Jefferson in mind and was not meant as an ideal theater.

Lighting Complaint

Continuing on to Miss Seaton's claim that lighting in the Little Theater is totally inadequate, the architect declared that the lighting was designed for a standard classroom. He added that he had first proposed more elaborate lighting, but that the plans had been cut by the district.

To Miss Seaton's complaint that the room had no blackboards, Ciampi replied that blackboards fell under an equipment classification.

Concerning one of the major charges, that of poor heating control, the architect admitted that this was one complaint "to be concerned about." After an involved explanation that the mechanical contractor had been uncooperative, Ciampi stated that he had "the impression that heating was working properly until the last meeting of the board" at which time he was confronted with the charges.

BRANDT WINS SIXTH COURTROOM DELAY ON DOPE CHARGES

William Albert Brandt, of Daly City, facing two felony narcotics counts, won his sixth courtroom delay Wednesday before San Francisco Superior Judge Orla St. Clair, who continued trial date to July 25.

Brandt, 29, of 473 Knowles avenue, was arrested in San Francisco April 24 by state narcotics agents. At the time agents claimed Brandt was sitting in a car rolling what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette.

Brandt is scheduled to appear this morning (Friday) in San Francisco municipal judge Alvin Weiberger's court on misdemeanor counts of possession and transportation of narcotics. His case in this court was continued from June 29.

Brandt is free without bail, being released to his parents on their recognizance.

participated in the annual hill hike. The rendezvous point was Lincoln Park. After meeting the scouts for the party, the group blazed trails from Frankfort street to the menacing Himalayan Juniors. Leading this daring band was Skip "Davy Crockett" Crudo and George "Daniel Boone" Ambrosio. After what seemed like hours, the scouts signaled for a rest. Falling to the ground exhausted, Rich Balleto, Lola Patton, and Rocky Brunson were barely able to pull their meager supplies from their knapsacks. After taking on nourishment we continued on to the peak of the Himalayan Juniors and planted the flag of the Daly City recreation department. From here the party wearily but triumphantly hiked home.

Rec News: Hike, Color Contest Among Activities

LINCOLN PARK By Mike Sibitz

Last Friday Lincoln Playgroupers went for a hike in the San Bruno Mountains. The 15 hikers were led by Bob Thomas, who proved to be an old hand at hiking. Upon arrival or re-arrival at the playground there were many complaints of aching backs and tired feet, including the Directors.

The coloring contest will come to a close Friday with over 100 entries. Winners of the contest will receive prizes. The contest is open to all children 10 and under.

EDGEWOOD PARK By Terry Steele

Over 35 boys and girls of all ages have started coloring every morning at this playground turning in pictures for the coloring contest in August. The bubble gum contest which was held July 5 was won by Jimmy Knight who is a virtual newcomer to the playground. He blew the largest bubble of all entrants. Patty Doyle was second and little Michael Brock, age 6, was third blowing a bubble 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Playing jacks and shooting marbles is the current rage as a contest will be held on Thursday, July 19th at 11:30 a.m.

ARTS AND CRAFTS By Jim Hough, Dot Chase, Roberta Taylor

This week the arts and crafts program included activities involving the following media: pyroclastic, copper, woodburning, construction paper, paints, and crayons. The children decorated two of the centers; one wall of the multi-purpose room at the Westlake School was adorned with fish which the children created. At the community center the children painted flowers which were taped to the windows.

Working with pyroclastic is a favorite craft. Kitty Kavanaugh and Loretta Firpo made key chains of forest green and gold, while Jonnie Lahr made a lanyard of avocado green and gold. Round basting using green and gold was done by Allen Pasora. Painters included Judy Silvestri, Roy Sanguinetti and Sandra Campbell. Judy painted a red and green flower. Roy made a very colorful abstract. Sandra used her initials in an all-over design. From copper, David Gehr made a clown's face. Coloring always remains interesting to the children. Cynthia Babbi

MARCHBANKS PARK By Leslie Linhares and Bobbie Carroll

Folk dancing has gained in popularity as the children have learned new steps and dances. "Seven Jumps" is first choice of the smaller dancers while the polkas and waltzes are favorites for the older crew. Judy Rachione brought some fast moving tunes by Frankie Yankavitch to which the children enjoyed creating their own steps. Sandra Nelson, Diane Anderson, Linda Moore and Thersa Tarango are among those who take part in these activities. Everyone is welcome to join this group on Tuesday afternoons at 2:00 o'clock.

Daly City Man Dies Here Following Mexican Accident

Alfred P. McGrath, 67, of 73 Knowles avenue, died Sunday morning at Community hospital, apparently from head injuries suffered two weeks ago in an auto accident in Guaymas, Mexico.

The Mexican crash, in which two of McGrath's companions were instantly killed, occurred while the local man was on a vacation trip. McGrath, who at first appeared to have incurred no injuries, returned to Daly City alone on a bus after the accident.

Shortly thereafter however, he began to complain of dizzy spells and was taken to Junipero Serra hospital and was later transferred to Community hospital.

McGrath, a retired San Francisco municipal railway conductor, was a member of the South of Market Boys, the Holy Name Society of St. Boniface church, Golden Gate avenue No. 61, F.O.E. and the Carpen's union, A. F. of L.

Survivors include his wife, Hortense, and three children, Alfred C. and Henry T. McGrath and Mrs. Joan Klotovich.

Rosary was recited Tuesday evening at W. C. Lasswell and company mortuary. A Requiem Mass was celebrated from Our Lady of Perpetual Help church Wednesday morning. Interment will be at Holy Cross cemetery.

CLUTCH PITCHING GIVES NEW PISA 7-6 VICTORY AS LOCALS WIN A PAIR

Pitching only seven balls to the last two batters in the last of the seventh with the bases loaded was the feat that Dante's new Pisa Juniors tilt Saturday with Excelsior Juniors. Richy Morales came into the box after making three assists and two put-outs, to face the last two batters with the bases loaded, and retire them with seven pitches. At the time the New Pisa's were protecting a 7-6 lead.

The Lowell Creighton kids had out-smarted a bigger and heavier bunch of lads, scoring seven times on only four hits. George Claus got two and Barry Krohn and Kulik each singled, but the youngsters ran the bases well, and took advantage of Carroll's wildness on the mound and a couple of miscues by other Excelsior players.

The Excelsior's got to Mike Wall for eight hits and to Billy Kane for one, before Morales saved the day. Sharp defensive play in the clutches salvaged the game several times before the last inning. Wall fanned nine, Kane one and then the last two by Morales.

The Pisa bunch fattened their batting averages on Sunday, when they walloped the South San Francisco Kiwanis Pirates 19-17. Krohn had a perfect day with four for four, scoring three times. Luke Jones collected four for five and scored three, Morales four for six, Claus three for four. Stoller three for five and everyone else got at least one hit and scored at least once.

Kulik pitched five innings, walking two and striking out three. Mike Lanthier pitched the sixth and walked one and struck out one. Krohn took the mound in the last inning and walked the first man, struck out the next, but an error and a hit by Galli scored Morris with the Pirates only tally. Kulik gave up five hits and Krohn one, but some brilliant fielding again made the New Pisa's the winners.

Realty Nine Regains Old Form, Wins Pair In DC Recreation Softball Loop

Regaining some of the fine team play which has won them the Daly City Softball league championship for the past two years, Wm. Lagomarsino Realty pounded out an 18-3 victory over Gino's club in loop play this week.

The game was never close as Vic Drago and E. Arnold combined to pitch seven-hit ball for the winners. J. Silacci provided the swat power for the realtors with a homer and double in four times at the plate.

Catcher D. Cafferata paced Gino's with two for two.

Broadmoor Police stayed in contention as they smashed across a run in the bottom of the eighth to nip Daly City Drug, 4-3. Pitcher Tom Gonzales provided the winning hit which scored Merrill Baxley.

Gonzales tossed a six-hitter in gaining the win.

Daly City Drug held a two-run lead earlier in the game, but Broadmoor pushed across a trio of tallies in the fourth to move ahead.

For the losers, L. Rollings whacked a home run which carried the contest into extra innings.

In their second outing this week, Lagomarsino Realty outclassed OLPH Men's club, 23-7, dropping the Men's club into the cellar.

One bright spot for the vanquished OLPHers was Tom Curtin's home run and double in three trips.

For the victors it was a brother effort as the two Chelones both had a perfect night with three for three.

Ralph's Cleaners remained the only undefeated club in the softball race with a 9-5 victory over Gino's.

Ralph's, making every one of their five hits count, were still hard-pressed to get by the spirited Gino's nine.

Rick Warner again paced the winners at bat with two hits in four tries.

For the barmen, M. Lovelace was the big stickler with two for three and pitched losing five-hit ball.

BYA Midgets Drop Closie To Sunset, 7-6

BYA Midgets dropped a close to South Sunset Saturday, 7-6, despite Pitcher Bruce Hix's 10-strikeout effort.

BYA came from behind in the third inning to tie the game up at 6-6. At the top of the sixth South Sunset picked up the winning tally as their pitcher, E. Gorgans, cracked a double to score a runner from second.

Hix gave the South Sunsets 10 hits, as against seven picked up by Broadmoor.

For the BYA, Jerry Ward topped batting with three for three. Hix smacked two singles, while Jimmy Harris, Mike Rueter and Larry Skinner each got one-base blows. This Saturday BYA vies with Glen Park at Balboa, starting at 10:30 a.m.

THE RECORD SPORTS

Roy, Art Succumb In Publinx Golf

Daly City's two entries in the National Public Links Golf tournament at Harding park weathered two days of the working man's golf extravaganza but fell in Wednesday's round.

Art Linhares, Daly City policeman, was eliminated by USF student John Fry. Fry was three-up at nine, then lost four holes straight to go 1 down at 16, only to annex the 17th with par and grab the match on the 18th by sinking a 12-foot birdie putt.

Milkman Roy Hart was in the thick of things until he met June Buxbaum of Memphis, who took the match, 1 up after Hart hit a bad second shot on the 18th hole to take a bogey.

Six Northern Californians of 12 originally qualifying went into yesterday's quarter-finals.

Hart and Linhares qualified last weekend scores of 74-70-144, and 78-76-154, respectively.

Hart's 36-hole total was third best of 64 qualifying.

The Westlakers had a three-run third frame to tie up, 3-3, then went ahead in the fourth canto on a squeeze bunt by Jim Berry, scoring Larry Kane. Burlingame knotted the score in the fifth.

Pitcher Larry Kane went the distance for the Rockets, giving up eight hits, striking out 14 and walking four batsmen.

WESTLAKE BESTS UKIAH ON LAST DITCH SINGLES

Four successive singles in the ninth inning pushed home three runs and enabled Westlake Merchants to pull out the chestnuts for a 3-2 victory over Ukiah Sunday at the latter's diamond.

Ukiah went out in front, 2-0, in the initial inning and both teams sandwiches in zeros for the next seven frames on the scorching Ukiah diamond.

Mike Monterrosa started the Westlake rally in the ninth with a single, and following up with successive base blows were Blair Le Mire, Dean Prince and John Carli.

Charley Bogel went eight innings, giving up eight hits but was not the winner, as Bob Pandettini came on in relief in the final frame for the heat-exhausted Bogel, who asked to be yanked.

Prince, South San Francisco prep star who is Stanford bound next fall, Bob Peterson and Monterrosa accounted for most of the Westlakers' nine hits.
